

Margin Interest Rate Schedule

Effective December 2025

Your interest rate is determined by the size of your margin loan (or debit) in your margin account on a daily basis. We charge a base lending rate plus or minus a percentage that varies based on your daily close of business net settled debit balance. The broker call rate, the prime rate, the federal funds rate and other commercially recognized interest rates are taken into consideration when we calculate our base lending rate.

The margin base lending rate, and therefore the total interest rate you are charged, may change without notice; the current rate is posted online at www.morganstanley.com/online.

The margin base lending rate is set by Morgan Stanley Smith Barney LLC and it is currently 9.95%.¹ The current percentage that is added to the margin base lending rate is as follows:

Daily Close of Business Net Settled Debit Balance	Percentage Added to Margin Base Lending Rate	Effective Rates*
$0–$99,999	+0.750%	10.700%
$100,000–$499,999	+0.250%	10.200%
$500,000–$999,999	–0.750%	9.200%
$1,000,000–$4,999,999	–1.125%	8.825%
$5,000,000–$9,999,999	–1.375%	8.575%
$10,000,000–$19,999,999	–2.625%	7.325%
$20,000,000–$49,999,999	–3.125%	6.825%
$50,000,000+	–3.625%	6.325%

* Effective rate includes spread plus margin base lending rate of 9.95% as of December 15, 2025. Subject to change.

If the total interest rate charged to you pursuant to this schedule changes for any reason other than an increase to the margin base lending rate, we will give you at least 30 days advance written notice. We reserve the right to charge a different (i.e., higher or lower) interest rate based on factors determined by us in our sole discretion, including, but not limited to, a high concentration of a security or a business sector, low-priced or speculative securities, account activity or your reason for borrowing.

Borrowing against securities may not be appropriate for everyone. You should be aware that securities based loans involve a high degree of risk and that market conditions can magnify any potential for loss. For details, please see the important disclosures below.
