Morgan Stanley
Where We Are Headed: Traditional Asset Management – Key Challenges

- Clients replacing active managers with internal funds or beta driven strategies
- Potential regulatory reform
- Fixed Income interest rate environment leading to industry wide outflows
- Fee compression with institutional clients
- North America distribution
- Organic growth takes time
With continuing strong investment performance and monetization of existing large principal stakes, business provides attractive financial model

- Historical model and metrics should change significantly over the next few years
  - Current large Morgan Stanley principal positions will continue to decline as investments are monetized opportunistically
  - Continue to make progress on legacy Real Estate Investing platform costs and issues
  - Completion of successful fund-raising for next generation of funds will start to address first-time fund / scale-related challenges

- Strong investment performance and maturing nature of funds / investment should provide increasing GP-related gains over next few years

- New model offers potential for very attractive returns
  - Limited capital investment combined with GP-related gains and necessary scale can provide strong returns on capital
Where We Are Headed: Merchant Banking & Real Estate – Key Challenges

- Increase the visibility of capabilities and attractive investment performance with clients, consultants, and within the Firm

- Opportunistically monetize minority stakes to reduce principal investments and improve capital efficiency over time

- Ensure optimal use of Morgan Stanley network for deal sourcing and industry insights

- Successful model clearly requires scaling of the business, but opportunity will take 18-36 months to materialize
  - Need to become a consistent fund-raiser to drive AUM and asset management fees

(1) Subject to certain restrictions.

  - Reduce capital including exposure to hedge fund stakes and private equity funds

- Result: More consistent revenue, earnings and returns on equity

<thead>
<tr>
<th>2016 Target: $500Bn of AUM, ~20% ROE&lt;sup&gt;(1)&lt;/sup&gt;</th>
