This Brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of CSM Advisors, LLC ("CSM Advisors", "CS McKee" or the "Company"). CSM Advisors, LLC also does business as CS McKee. If you have any questions about the contents of this Brochure, please contact Ulf Skreppen, our Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO"), at (412) 566-1234 Uskreppen@csmkee.com. The information in this Brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission or by any state securities authority.

CSM Advisors is a registered investment adviser. Registration of an Investment Adviser does not imply any level of skill or training. Additional information about us is also available on the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

ITEM 2: SUMMARY OF MATERIAL CHANGES

Below is a list of Material changes to our policies, practices, or conflicts of interest listed in 2A, since our last brochure dated May 31, 2025. You will receive a summary of material changes to this and subsequent Brochures within 120 days of the close of our fiscal year and we may provide other ongoing disclosure updates, as necessary. We will provide you with a new Brochure, as needed at any time without charge.

• Transaction Involving Azimut Group

In July 2025, North Square HoldCo, LLC announced a transaction under which it will become Azimut NSI, LLC, a subsidiary of the Azimut Group. Upon completion of the transaction, Azimut NSI will hold ownership interests in North Square Investments, CS McKee, and Kennedy Capital Management.

No changes are anticipated to CS McKee's operations, personnel, or services as a result of the transaction. CS McKee will continue to manage client accounts, including the Funds, in the same manner as prior to the transaction. The transaction is expected to close during the first quarter of 2026.

• Merger with Foundry Partners and Leadership Transition

Effective April 28, 2025, Foundry Partners, LLC merged into CS McKee Advisors, LLC. As part of the integration, Timothy Ford, former President and CEO of Foundry Partners, has been appointed Chief Executive Officer of CS McKee.

Mark Gensheimer, who served as President of CS McKee for more than 15 years, retired effective September 30, 2025. No other senior management or operational changes are anticipated as a result of this leadership transition.

• Transition of Proxy Voting Responsibilities

CS McKee is in the process of transitioning proxy voting responsibilities to Institutional Shareholder Services ("ISS"), the independent proxy voting service historically used by Foundry Partners.

The transition is being implemented on a custodian-by-custodian basis and is expected to be completed by year-end 2025. Until the transition is finalized, proxies will continue to be voted in accordance with CS McKee's existing proxy voting policy or, for accounts already converted, under the ISS guidelines previously applied by Foundry Partners.

ITEM 4: ADVISORY BUSINESS

CSM Advisors, LLC (“CSM Advisors”, “CS McKee” or the “Company”) manages pension funds, profit-sharing plans, reserve funds, endowments and other financial assets for public sector, unions, corporations, foundations, hospitals, schools, religious organizations, and other institutions.

The Company was established in 2020 and is continuing the business of CS McKee which was founded in 1931. The Company’s offices are located in Pittsburgh. The Company’s principal owner is CSM Intermediate Holdings, LLC. For the purposes of this section, the persons owning twenty-five percent (25%) or more of our firm’s membership interests are our principal owners.

Our Advisory Services

The Company provides portfolio management services tailored to its clients’ investment objectives. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. Such restrictions must be submitted to the Company in writing. It should be known that client-imposed restrictions may affect the Company’s ability to perform its stated investment strategy and, therefore, investment performance may deviate from other clients managed in accordance with the same strategy but absent such restrictions.

We provide model portfolio recommendations to other investment advisors, hereinafter referred to as UMA Model Accounts.

We are also the Sub-Advisor for multiple public funds.

We offer a variety of services to both existing and prospective clients, including managing pension funds, profit-sharing plans, reserve funds, endowments, and other financial assets for public sector, unions, corporations, foundations, hospitals, schools, religious organizations, and other institutions.

Assets Under Management

We manage client assets on either a discretionary or nondiscretionary basis. As of September 30, 2025, the Company had approximately $10.925 billion in discretionary RAUM and approximately $418 million in non-discretionary AUM.

ITEM 5: FEES AND COMPENSATION

The Company receives compensation directly and indirectly for its services.

Direct Compensation comes in the form of payments from clients based upon assets managed. The Company typically bills clients based upon a pre-determined fee schedule using the assets managed as recorded in our system. Variations as to the assets' valuation date, how the asset values are calculated (for examples source may be from our accounts or custodian statements), and invoice period are permissible. There are some sponsors (Unified Managed Assets "UMA", consultants, clients, etc.) that calculate their own fee under the applicable fee schedule and remit payment without requiring an invoice from the Company.

Additional indirect compensation may come from pooled investment products that are sub-advised by the Company, such as mutual funds, collective investment trusts (CITs), or other commingled vehicles.

All fees are negotiable. Fees are billed in advance or in arrears according to a written and fully executed management agreement. Fees may be billed separately or directly debited from a client's account. A client must authorize any direct debit arrangements with its custodian. New and terminating clients will have invoices prorated to the nearest day. Refunds may be necessary if client has elected to pay in advance and the termination falls in the middle of a billing cycle. Any refunds will be paid promptly following termination or depending on the arrangements with the client, following the end of the quarter.

Clients will be charged additional commissions or other brokerage fees when McKee executes trades with multiple broker/dealers other than the sponsor in order to provide favorable execution (step-out trades). Fees are generally charged quarterly in arrears, but McKee may enter into arrangements where fees are billed in advance. Typically, fees are charged as a percentage of assets under management and are calculated at the close of each calendar quarter, but McKee may enter into flat fee arrangements with certain clients on a case-by-case basis. Typically, investment management fees charged as a percentage of assets under management are based on account balances at the end of a calendar quarter provided by the custodian. Typically, clients authorize McKee to deduct McKee's fees directly from their account by sending an invoice to the custodian. The account custodian does not check the fee calculation, percentage or amount to be deducted, so the client is responsible for reviewing fee deductions shown on account statements and informing McKee of any suspected errors. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable. McKee generally does not offer the services provided under the Program separately. However, clients may be able to purchase services similar to those offered under the Program from other service providers either separately or as part of a similar wrap fee program. These services or programs may cost more or less than the Program, depending on the fees charged by such other service providers.

CS McKee serves as a sub-advisor to the mutual funds listed above, which are sponsored and distributed by our affiliate, North Square Investments. Clients invested in these funds are responsible for the fund-level expenses, including management fees and other operating expenses, as detailed in each fund's prospectus.

CS McKee and North Square Investments share the management revenue earned from these funds. The specific allocation of revenue between the firms may vary by fund and may change over time. In some cases, additional sub-advisors may also participate in the management and share in revenue. These arrangements may create potential conflicts of interest, which we manage in accordance with our fiduciary duties and disclose in our Form ADV.

For the most accurate and up-to-date information, please refer to the respective fund prospectuses and our Form ADV Part 2A.

Other Fees

The Company may purchase pooled investment vehicles (such as mutual funds, ETFs, or closed-end funds) within client accounts as part of its investment strategies. These vehicles may include funds managed or sub-advised by the Company or by its affiliate, North Square Investments.

Clients investing in pooled products will be responsible for the internal expenses of those products, which are commonly referred to as the fund's expense ratio. This includes investment management fees (which may be paid to the Company if it serves as subadvisor) and other administrative costs such as custodian, legal, accounting, printing, and other operating expenses. Full details of these embedded fees can be found in each fund's prospectus.

The Company receives compensation only for the portion of the management fee applicable to its role as subadvisor. In all cases, clients may also incur other costs such as brokerage and custodial fees in connection with their accounts. Please refer to Item 12 for more information on our brokerage practices.

Initial 408(b)2 disclosure for prospective and existing clients

CS McKee's [Company] 408(b)2 Disclosure (EIN 84-3346426)

This document provides an overview of the investment management services provided to your plan by the Company, the compensation received by the Company for and in connection with those services, and other information required by the Department of Labor regulation under Section 408(b)(2) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). Under ERISA, a plan sponsor or other fiduciary has a fiduciary responsibility to prudently select and monitor those hired to provide services to the plan, to ensure, among other things, the reasonableness of the service arrangement and of the compensation to be received by the service provider. This document is designed to assist you in meeting that fiduciary responsibility.

(A) Services

The Company proposes to manage assets for your plan.

For more information regarding the proposed service arrangement with your plan, please refer to our proposal and Item 4 of this Form ADV Part 2A.

(B) Status

In connection with providing the services to your plan, the Company would be a fiduciary with respect to the plan under ERISA and is acting as an SEC Registered Investment Advisor.

(C) Compensation

Direct Compensation

The current and future annual charges would be outlined in any management agreement. Standard fee schedules are provided within Item 5 of this ADV Part 2A.

The Company directly bills plans for separately managed accounts.

If you were to select a mutual fund, fees would be received directly from the sponsor. Again, please see Item 5 of this ADV Part 2A for detailed fee schedules.

Indirect Compensation

Soft dollar credits will vary based upon trading volume but will change very little year over year. Please refer to Item 12 for more information regarding our soft dollar practices.

The Company does not currently, nor in the future, expect to receive soft dollar credits for the management of fixed income products, or other forms of indirect compensation in connection with the services being provided to your plan unless specifically stated in this disclosure.

Gifts and Other Non-Monetary Compensation

From time to time, the providers of various products and services used by The Company for its investment management clients may provide The Company and its personnel with non-monetary gifts and gratuities, such as promotional items (i.e., coffee mugs, calendars or gift baskets), meals and access to certain industry related conferences (collectively, "gifts"). The receipt of these gifts is not dependent on or otherwise related to the assets invested by your plan or any of our other clients in or with the products or services of the provider. Nevertheless, The Company has implemented policies and procedures intended to identify, quantify, track and restrict gifts received by it and its personnel. Pursuant to rules established by the U.S. Department of Labor, the Company has implemented a policy for allocating the value of a gift among multiple clients, where applicable. Under such policy, where potentially reportable compensation is received by the Company (including its personnel) in connection with several clients, the Company will first divide the fair market value of the gift by its client assets under management to which such gift is reasonably applicable, and then allocate the result to each affected client, in proportion to the client's assets under management, to determine if it exceeds the de minimis threshold under the Section 408(b)(2) regulation and related and associated guidance. Based on historic trends, the Company does not expect to receive gifts in excess of the de minimis threshold under these rules with respect to your plan.

(D) Termination

The Company does not charge a termination fee. If the Client is billed in advance, we will reimburse the Client for unused services. The reimbursement is based upon the termination date provided to us by the Client (the calculation for reimbursement is total days remaining in the quarter, divided by total days in the quarter, multiplied by the account fee). If the Client is billed in arrears, the last invoice will be prorated to the termination date provided to us by Client.

(E) Certification of Disclosures under ERISA Section 408 (b) (2)

- The information provided herewith (a) has been compiled by the Company in good faith using reasonable diligence, and (b) represents, to the best of the Company's knowledge, the full and complete disclosure of the services and compensation related to the Company's contract or arrangement with the client in compliance with the requirements of the Department of Labor's regulation at 29 CFR Section 2550.408b-2(c).

- The Company will disclose to the Plan any change to the information disclosed herewith as soon as practicable and, unless precluded by extraordinary circumstances beyond the Company's control, not later than 60 days from the date that the Company is informed of such change.
- The Company will disclose to the Plan any correction to the information provided herewith that is necessary to correct an error or omission in such information as soon as practicable and not later than 30 days from the date on which the Company becomes aware of such error or omission.

In addition to the 408(b)2 disclosure incorporated here and distributed annually, the Company will also provide, upon request, a detailed 408(b)2 disclosures to its ERISA clients to support their FORM 5500 filings. Clients not covered under ERISA can also request a similar detailed Fee disclosure Statement by emailing mckeecompliance@cs McCormick.com.

ITEM 6: PERFORMANCE BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

As discussed in the fee section, all fee schedules are negotiable.

At the time of our last Brochure, the Company did not have any clients subject to performance-based fees. However, as a result of our business combination with Foundry Partners LLC, the Company now enters into performance-based fee arrangements with certain qualified clients, consistent with Rule 205-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. These fee structures are based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation within the client's account.

The inclusion of performance-based fee arrangements introduces the potential for conflicts of interest, including:

- Favoring performance-fee accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities;
- Prioritizing trades or execution pricing for such accounts;
- Using trades in other accounts to benefit performance-fee accounts; and
- Allocating disproportionate time and resources to higher-compensating relationships.

To address these risks, the Company has adopted internal controls and oversight procedures designed to ensure fair and equitable treatment across all client accounts. These include:

- Treating performance-fee accounts equally in trade execution and allocation processes;
- Ensuring all accounts managed in the same strategy trade in parallel under established allocation protocols;
- Requiring all trades to follow our standard execution queues with no preferential treatment; and
- Monthly reviews by the CCO and investment teams to evaluate dispersion and identify any performance outliers, with documentation required for material deviations.

The Company remains committed to applying a consistent investment process regardless of fee structure, and no issues related to favoritism or inequitable treatment have been observed to date.

ITEM 7: TYPES OF CLIENTS

The Company primarily works with Institutional Clients.

As of the date of this Brochure, client types include high net worth individuals, investment companies, pension and profit-sharing plans, charitable organizations, state or municipal government entities, insurance companies, and corporations.

The standard account minimum account is $5,000,000, but exceptions will be made based upon a multitude of factors including the size of the relationship, the ability of the Company to invest a smaller amount effectively in an existing current strategy, level of service required, the strategy requested, and the potential for gaining additional future assets.

ITEM 8: METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

Although the Company seeks to reduce the potential loss to a client by diversifying its investments within all its strategies, clients should be prepared to bear losses. Leverage is not used for our strategies.

Small Accounts: Accounts that are smaller than our standard minimum may have significantly different results than other accounts invested in the same mandate.

Significant Cash Flows: Accounts that have numerous and/or large cash flows may have significantly different results from those than those invested in the same mandate.

General Equity Risk

Equity securities are subject to significant fluctuations in value due to issuer-specific events, general market volatility, economic conditions, or other external factors. These fluctuations can lead to losses in a client's portfolio.

Market Risk

The stock market tends to move in cycles with periods of rising and falling prices. Broad declines in equity markets can negatively affect the value of most or all equity investments, regardless of a company's individual performance.

Issuer Risk

An individual company's financial condition, management, earnings performance, or public perception can cause the value of its securities to decline independently of market trends.

Large-Cap Company Risk

Large-cap companies may grow more slowly than the overall market or smaller companies and may be less responsive to changes or innovations. Their performance can lag during periods favoring nimble or high-growth firms.

Small and Mid-Cap Company Risk

Small and mid-sized companies often have limited product lines, less access to capital, and reduced liquidity, making their securities more volatile and sensitive to economic changes than larger, established firms.

Micro-Cap Company Risk

Micro-cap companies may be especially susceptible to market volatility and financial instability. Their securities may be thinly traded and more prone to pricing inefficiencies, resulting in higher liquidity and valuation risk.

Value Investing Risk

Securities believed to be undervalued may never reach their intrinsic value or may decline in price. Value strategies may underperform growth-oriented strategies during certain market cycles.

Growth Investing Risk

Growth stocks may be priced highly based on anticipated future earnings. If growth expectations are not met, these securities may experience sharp declines. Growth companies may also forgo paying dividends, which can increase reliance on capital appreciation.

Investment Discretion Risk

When an adviser is granted discretionary authority, portfolio decisions may be executed without prior client approval. This may lead to short-term underperformance relative to client expectations, particularly in volatile markets.

Liquidity Risk

Certain equity securities may trade infrequently or in limited volumes, making it difficult to execute trades without materially affecting prices. This risk is more common among small-cap, micro-cap, and foreign securities.

Sector or Industry Risk

Concentrating investments in specific sectors or industries may increase exposure to regulatory changes, economic shifts, or other events that disproportionately affect those sectors.

Volatility Risk

Equity securities, especially those in emerging or high-growth areas, can be subject to rapid and unpredictable changes in value, resulting in sharp losses during periods of market instability.

Regulatory Risk

Changes in government regulation, legislation, tax policy, or enforcement can adversely impact a company's operations, financial results, or valuation. This risk is elevated in heavily regulated industries such as financials, healthcare, and energy.

Currency Risk

Investments in foreign securities are subject to fluctuations in exchange rates between the local currency and the U.S. dollar. Adverse currency movements can erode investment returns or increase losses, particularly in emerging markets or when securities are denominated in a foreign currency.

Counterparty Risk

When entering into financial transactions (e.g., forwards, swaps, or derivative contracts), the portfolio may be exposed to the risk that a counterparty will fail to meet its obligations, due to insolvency, operational failure, or other default. This can lead to losses even if the underlying investment thesis proves correct.

FIXED INCOME METHODOLOGY

The Company's fixed income methodology incorporates a bottom-up approach that is opportunistic, yet risk-controlled. Our focus on security analysis and selection is designed to mitigate risk associated with credit, duration, or yield curve decisions.

Economic Outlook: We assess multiple economic/interest rate scenarios using raw economic data from a variety of sources. The intent here is to create a broad framework for portfolio scenario analysis and optimization.

Security Selection and Sector Exposure: Alpha relative to the benchmark is expected to result primarily from strong security selection. We ascertain whether client portfolios would be adequately compensated (in terms of yield) for owning each security and may work with Wall Street firms and government agencies to create securities specifically for our client portfolios. Current and potential holdings are analyzed on both a relative and historical basis versus the Treasury and Swap curves to determine fair value. Simulations are run to measure performance across the range of economic assumptions. Sector weightings, while monitored carefully, are largely a function of the security selection decision. The credit portion of the portfolio focuses on active trading of what we consider to be the highest quality, most liquid issuers.

Duration and Yield Curve: These decisions represent the most challenging areas in which to consistently add value and can expose the portfolio to unnecessary risk. We operate within a duration range of 80% – 120% versus the benchmark, and the purpose of duration decisions and yield curve positioning is to help convert the yield advantage gained through the security selection process into excess return.

Maturity Structure: Short-term and long-term interest rates seldom change by the same amount (parallel shift of the yield curve). As a result, opportunities exist to add return by identifying the changing shape of the curve and searching for arbitrage opportunities. Fundamental and technical analyses determine what we believe is the optimal maturity structure (highest expected return/least risk) for the expected changes in rates.

Portfolio Construction and Risk Control: The Company first establishes with each client an appropriate, quantifiable policy benchmark (generally a market index) against which performance results can be measured. The benchmark incorporates the client's tolerance for risk, defined in terms of the variability of returns, as well as the client's long-term objectives and return expectations.

Four Portfolio Managers and multiple analysts work as a team to manage all accounts. They concentrate on economic and risk analysis and are responsible for the implementation of overall strategy.

Portfolio risk is measured in terms of duration, maturity structure, sector exposure, and the estimated tracking error of the portfolio relative to the appropriate benchmark. We use option-adjusted, key rate duration when examining both the market index and our client portfolios. This is required because many market indices contain callable bonds, and our portfolios often include mortgage-backed securities whose durations depend upon prepayment assumptions.

Duration, maturity structure and sector weightings for all accounts are compared to client-specific strategy targets. Risk characteristics, tracking error and performance attribution are calculated on a monthly basis. Proposed modifications are subjected to the same type of analysis in order to determine the amount of risk and cost involved in a given restructuring, and to minimize the introduction of unnecessary and unintended risks in the portfolio.

The quality of the portfolio is high, and the number of securities is controlled to manage transaction costs. Cash levels of approximately 2% or less of the total portfolio are maintained. Annual turnover will normally range between 75% and 125%, depending upon market conditions.

Monitor Performance: The BondEdge platform, along with the Company's internal measurement systems, provide us with the tools to monitor and attribute portfolio performance. Duration, yield curve, sector allocation and security selection are measured and analyzed. This lets us monitor that portfolio performance matches internal expectations and dispersion among accounts is minimized.

Risks Specific to Fixed Income Investing:

Bonds have two main sources of risk. Interest rate risk is the risk that a rise in interest rates will cause the price of a debt security to fall. Securities with longer maturities typically suffer greater declines than those with shorter maturities. Mortgage-backed securities can react somewhat differently to interest rate changes because falling rates can cause losses of principal due to increased mortgage prepayments and rising rates can lead to decreased prepayments and greater volatility. Credit risk is the risk that an issuer of a debt security will default (fail to make scheduled interest or principal payments), potentially reducing income distributions and market values. This risk is increased when a security is downgraded, or the perceived creditworthiness of the issuer deteriorates.

ETF METHODOLOGY:

Certain of our strategies utilize Exchange Traded Funds (ETF's) to either passively access specific asset allocations or to tactically allocate among a diversified group of asset classes. Technical and Sharpe ratio-based models are used to help manage risk.

- A Technical Trend following model that uses standard price trend, breadth, and relative strength technical indicators over multiple time frames for analysis is used to help determine whether equity or fixed income or other defensive type of ETF allocations are most appropriate given the models overall risk level.
- A Sharpe Ratio momentum process is used to help determine which ETF's are adequately compensating investors for the risk that would be taken by owning that ETF. This helps construct a broad diversified mix of ETF's that are offering proper compensation for the risk of owning them.
- At times simply gaining passive allocations to certain asset classes makes sense and low-cost passive ETF alternatives are considered to meet that objective.

Risks specific to ETF Investing

The market value of an ETF's shares may differ from its net asset value ("NAV"). This difference in price may be due to the fact that the supply and demand in the market for ETF shares at any point in time is not always identical to the supply and demand in the market for the underlying basket of securities. Accordingly, there may be times when an ETF trades at a premium (creating the risk that the portfolio pays more than NAV for an ETF when making a purchase) or discount

(creating the risks that the NAV is reduced for undervalued ETFs it holds, and that the portfolio receives less than NAV when selling an ETF.)

ITEM 9: DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

There are no material disciplinary or legal events to report as of the effective date of this Brochure.

ITEM 10: OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

The Company, at its expense, pays Foreside Fund Services, LLC (“Foreside”), an unaffiliated FINRA registered broker-dealer, a fee for certain distribution-related services for the Fund so that employees of the Adviser may serve as registered representatives of Foreside to facilitate the distribution of Fund shares.

The Company may enter into contracts with financial intermediaries as a sub-advisor, dual contract manager, and/or money manager with the written permission of the client. In these arrangements, the client would receive multiple ADV Part 2A offerings on an annual basis.

As a result of being under the control of an affiliate of Estancia, the Adviser, as of December 31st, 2024, is also affiliated with each of the following:

- Estancia Capital Management, LLC
- Estancia GP II, L.P.
- Estancia GP III, LP
- Estancia GP, LLC
- Geneva Capital Management, LLC.
- North Square Investments, LLC
- Sapience Investments, LLC
- Snowden Account Services, LLC
- Snowden Capital Advisors, LLC
- Snowden Insurance Services, LLC
- Soltis Investment Advisors, LLC

The Adviser does not believe that its affiliation with any of the foregoing creates a material conflict of interest with its advisory business.

Some employees of CSM Advisors, LLC are also shared with North Square Investments. This presents potential conflicts around the sharing of client’s personal information, fair trade practices, and supervision. To mitigate these conflicts, the Company has policies in place to supervise and monitor the activities of these shared employees.

ITEM 11: CODE OF ETHICS

We have adopted a Code of Ethics (the “Code”) pursuant to Rule 204A-1 under the Advisers Act describing the standards of business conduct we expect all officers, directors, employees and advisory representatives to follow. The Code includes provisions relating to confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, reporting of gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons at the Company must acknowledge the terms of the Code annually, or as amended.

The Code is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of the Company will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Under the Code certain classes of securities have been designated as exempt transactions, based upon a determination that these would materially not interfere with the best interest of the Company’s clients. In addition, the Code requires pre-clearance of many transactions and restricts trading in close proximity to client trading activity. Nonetheless, because the Code in some circumstances would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee. The firm’s employees may, from time to time, buy or sell securities for their own accounts that are the same as, similar to or the opposite of those that the firm recommends to their clients for purchase or sale. Differences can arise due to variations in personal goals, investment horizons, risk tolerance and the timing of purchases and sales. Employee trading is conducted through ComplySci, a software-based platform used for approving and monitoring trading activity as well as storing employee statements and attestations. This platform is continually monitored under the Code to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between the Company and its clients. The CCO of our firm reviews the quarterly brokerage statements, through ComplySci, belonging to all access persons for possible conflicts of interest.

Our Code is in place and enforced as a key means to prevent employees from taking advantage of their position or placing their own interests above that of our clients. Clients or prospective clients can request a full copy of the Code by contacting Ulf Skreppen, our CCO, at (412) 566-1234 Uskreppen@csmkee.com.

ITEM 12: BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Broker Selection and Best Execution

CS McKee seeks to achieve best execution for client trades, considering factors such as execution quality, commission rates, responsiveness, financial stability, and access to liquidity. While cost is an important factor, it is not the sole determinant. The firm may also consider the value of brokerage and research services received.

Soft Dollar Arrangements

Where permitted, CS McKee may engage in soft dollar arrangements, using client commissions to obtain eligible research and brokerage services in accordance with Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These services are intended to support our investment decision-making process and may include market data, analytics platforms, research reports, trading systems, and portfolio risk tools.

Soft dollar arrangements create a potential conflict of interest by incentivizing the selection of brokers that provide research over those offering lower execution costs. To address this, CS McKee evaluates execution quality on an ongoing basis and monitors soft dollar usage to ensure it is in the best interests of clients. Research and services obtained with soft dollars are used broadly to support our overall investment process and benefit all clients, including those whose accounts do not directly generate soft dollar credits.

Soft dollar benefits are used to support the firm's investment research and trading processes. While employees may have incidental access to research acquired through soft dollar arrangements, CS McKee maintains policies and oversight to ensure that such research is used to support client accounts and not for the personal advantage of employees.

Mixed-Use Services

To the extent a service has both eligible and ineligible components ("mixed-use"), CS McKee makes a good faith allocation of costs. Only the portion attributable to eligible research is paid with soft dollars; the remainder is paid from firm resources.

Discretionary and Model-Based Accounts

Where applicable, research obtained through soft dollar arrangements may be used to support the management of both discretionary portfolios and model-based or non-discretionary accounts.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

CS McKee does not select brokers in exchange for client referrals.

Directed Brokerage

Clients may direct CS McKee to use specific broker-dealers. In such cases, clients may forego potential benefits of aggregated orders and may incur higher transaction costs or receive less favorable execution.

Trade Aggregation and Allocation

When appropriate, trades are aggregated across client accounts to improve execution. Aggregated trades are allocated equitably based on asset weightings, client restrictions, and strategy guidelines. CS McKee reviews all allocations to ensure consistency with its fiduciary obligations.

Client Instructions and Trade Rotation

Clients must provide written instructions to direct brokerage. CS McKee uses an asset-weighted random trade rotation for discretionary and directed accounts. The firm reserves the right to adjust the rotation or execution timing when required to meet client-specific needs or to ensure timely execution.

ITEM 13: REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

Staff Accountants – The Company's accountants reconcile its internal books with custodian statements on a monthly basis with respect to transactions and holdings. Differences are researched and resolved on an ongoing basis. All reconciliations are documented and kept on file for review.

Relationship Managers – Client Relationship Managers review client statements on a quarterly basis.

Portfolio Managers – The investment team monitors portfolios daily. The Company uses Charles River Compliance to check clients' accounts for any violations of their investment policies. These verifications are run on a nightly and pre-trade basis. Alerts and warnings are generated if there is a suspected violation, and the investment team is instructed to resolve these situations immediately. Audit trails of alerts are maintained electronically and available for review for appropriate parties.

Chief Compliance Officer – The Compliance Department, including outside consultants, review client information on an ongoing basis. The review may include a variety of items, from monthly outlier reports to sampling of invoices, etc.

Client Statements – The Company has numerous client reports which can be distributed by mail, email, or loaded to a secure website hosted by the client. They can be delivered in Excel, Word, PDF, or any type of text delimited file that is required. Custom reports and the timing of these reports are at the discretion of the client. At a minimum, clients receive a standard quarterly package from the Company that includes holdings, transactions, and performance reporting.

ITEM 14: CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

The Company does not utilize third party solicitors.

ITEM 15: CUSTODY

Clients receive statements at least quarterly from the broker-dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains the client's investment assets. We urge clients to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account reports that we provide to clients, as described in Item 13, "REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS".

ITEM 16: INVESTMENT DISCRETION

If a client grants us discretionary authority, that authority will be in writing in the agreement signed between the client and our firm. This discretionary authority gives us the power to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the securities to be bought or sold for the portfolio, the amount of securities to be bought or sold, and in most cases, the broker-dealer to be used. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account and by considering the size of the client's account and the client's risk tolerance. Our discretionary authority only permits us to transfer funds or securities in the client's name. We do not maintain custody of client accounts. Clients will likely sign an agreement with their custodian recognizing our power to authorize trades on the client's behalf and direct the purchase and sale of securities within the client's account.

When selecting securities and determining amounts, we observe the investment objectives, limitations and restrictions of the clients for which we advise. As described in more detail in Item 4, "ADVISORY BUSINESS", clients may establish written investment guidelines and restrictions.

ITEM 17: VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

CS McKee Clients

Proxy voting responsibilities are currently being transitioned to an independent third-party service provider retained by CS McKee. The process is expected to be completed by year-end 2025.

Our general policy is to vote proxies in support of management recommendations unless we believe doing so would negatively impact shareholder value. Proposals that may be voted against include those related to anti-takeover provisions, excessive compensation plans, golden parachutes, or measures that limit shareholder rights.

- Conflicts of Interest
If a material conflict of interest is identified (e.g., a proxy involving a company where a CS McKee executive has a personal connection), the matter is escalated to Compliance. Depending on the situation, CS McKee may abstain from voting or follow an objective third-party recommendation.
 - Securities Lending
While CS McKee does not currently engage in securities lending on behalf of clients, clients may independently participate in lending programs through their custodians. In such cases, shares on loan are typically not recalled for proxy voting unless specifically instructed by the client. Clients should consult their custodians for more information about the impact of lending on proxy rights.
 - Client Direction and Opt-Out
Clients may choose to vote their own proxies or provide written instructions on specific matters. Clients may also opt out of proxy voting entirely by submitting a written request.
 - Access to Voting Information
Clients may request information about how proxies were voted or obtain a copy of CS McKee's full proxy voting policy by contacting their relationship manager or emailing: mckeecompliance@csmckee.com.

Legacy Foundry Clients

For clients previously managed under the Foundry Partners platform, CS McKee utilizes an independent third-party proxy voting service to vote proxies and provide objective research and administrative support. This provider will continue to vote proxies for these accounts to ensure consistency with historical practice and to maintain objectivity.

The third-party service follows a pre-determined voting policy designed to support long-term shareholder value. In the event of a material conflict of interest, the service provider's recommendation will generally determine the vote.

- Client Direction and Opt-Out
Legacy Foundry clients may also choose to vote their own proxies or provide written voting instructions. Clients may opt out of proxy voting at any time by notifying the firm in writing.
- Access to Voting Information
Clients may request details of how their proxies were voted or obtain a copy of the applicable proxy voting policy by contacting their relationship manager or emailing: mckeecompliance@csmckee.com.

ITEM 18: FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Company does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client six months or more in advance. Therefore, the Company is not required to include a balance sheet for its most recent fiscal year. The Company is not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Finally, the Company has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.

CS McKee PrivacyPolicy

We recognize that the relationship we have with our various clients is our most important asset. That relationship is founded upon the client's trust and confidence in CS McKee. An essential component of that relationship is the commitment that we make to protect information relating to each account. Since we believe that it is the desire of our clients to protect their privacy, we will not disclose personal information to any party unless it is required by law, the client has provided us with specific written direction, or such disclosure is integral to the provision of our investment advisory services to that account. Under no conditions will C. S. McKee sell client information to anyone.

WHAT INFORMATION IS COLLECTED, MAINTAINED AND COMMUNICATED?

In the course of establishing and maintaining account relationships, it is common to collect certain information that relates to various aspects of our business. While this information is available to internal CS McKee marketers, it is not distributed to any outside marketing group.

Examples of the kind of information collected and maintained include:

1. Account information, including contact names, addresses and phone numbers are compiled when the account is opened.
2. Trade tickets and account statements generated as output from our processes.
3. Reports from third parties such as custodians or brokerage houses received and maintained as record for the accounts.

INFORMATION PROTECTION

To fulfill our privacy commitment to clients, certain steps have been taken to ensure that such information is protected.

Physical Safeguards:

- Our primary office and off-site storage area is guarded 24/7 by security personnel
- Our office is locked to the general public during off-hours.
- General file cabinets can also be secured if they contain sensitive information.
- Backups are stored on-site and in the cloud for redundancy.

Electronic Safeguards:

- Our network is guarded by a firewall to prevent hacking.
- All PC's, laptops and mobile devices are password protected. Inactivity will cause the devices to be locked.
- MFA (multi-factor authentication) through Azure is required to log into any McKee service from any device.

Policies and Procedures:

- Access to client information is restricted to employees requiring the information to satisfactorily perform their jobs.
- Employees may not use private email to conduct business.
- Confidentiality clauses are resident in the contracts governing our business relationship with outside service providers requiring client information.
- CS McKee will not disclose personal information relating to a current or former client account or account representative unless one or all of the following conditions are met:
 - a) Written consent has been received from the client.
 - b) CS McKee is permitted by law to provide such information.
 - c) We believe that the recipient of any information has been identified in writing by you as your authorized representative.
 - d) The recipient provides services to the account essential to provide investment management for the account.

VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

CS McKee Clients

Proxy voting responsibilities are currently being transitioned to an independent third-party service provider retained by CS McKee. The process is expected to be completed by year-end 2025.

Our general policy is to vote proxies in support of management recommendations unless we believe doing so would negatively impact shareholder value. Proposals that may be voted against include those related to anti-takeover provisions, excessive compensation plans, golden parachutes, or measures that limit shareholder rights.

- Conflicts of Interest
If a material conflict of interest is identified (e.g., a proxy involving a company where a CS McKee executive has a personal connection), the matter is escalated to Compliance. Depending on the situation, CS McKee may abstain from voting or follow an objective third-party recommendation.
- Securities Lending
While CS McKee does not currently engage in securities lending on behalf of clients, clients may independently participate in lending programs through their custodians. In such cases, shares on loan are typically not recalled for proxy voting unless specifically instructed by the client. Clients should consult their custodians for more information about the impact of lending on proxy rights.
- Client Direction and Opt-Out
Clients may choose to vote their own proxies or provide written instructions on specific matters. Clients may also opt out of proxy voting entirely by submitting a written request.
- Access to Voting Information
Clients may request information about how proxies were voted or obtain a copy of CS McKee's full proxy voting policy by contacting their relationship manager or emailing: mckeecompliance@csmckee.com.

Legacy Foundry Clients

For clients previously managed under the Foundry Partners platform, CS McKee utilizes an independent third-party proxy voting service to vote proxies and provide objective research and administrative support. This provider will continue to vote proxies for these accounts to ensure consistency with historical practice and to maintain objectivity.

The third-party service follows a pre-determined voting policy designed to support long-term shareholder value. In the event of a material conflict of interest, the service provider's recommendation will generally determine the vote.

- Client Direction and Opt-Out
Legacy Foundry clients may also choose to vote their own proxies or provide written voting instructions. Clients may opt out of proxy voting at any time by notifying the firm in writing.

- Access to Voting Information
